

CONSTANTINE “DC” ABRAMSON

Constantine “DC” Abramson is a renaissance man of the entertainment world. Break dancing, beat boxing, acting, painting and working as one of the NBA’s most recognizable mascots are only a few of his talents. DC and Genevieve toured together in the band “Legato” and began a mutual appreciation for each other’s talents. As he would beat box and break dance at the shows, Genevieve introduced him to Greg and he was immediately hired on to add his beat boxing to the Choo Choo Soul project. At the time DC was also the mascot “Sourdough Sam” for the San Francisco 49ers. In addition to his role as the beat boxing, break dancing engineer on “Choo-Choo Soul with GENEVIEVE!”. DC also spent the past 3 years NBA Golden State Warriors as their team Mascot, “THUNDER”. He left the role in 2008 and is currently working on his latest project : a compilation of Beatboxing, fused with musical arrangements. Constantine is also a fantastic Artist. Working in oil on canvas, and pen and ink. He has recently completed a collection of works soon to be presented in a Public showing in The San Francisco Bay area.
